

Hot Comments to DC Merchants

By NANCY STANCILL

Three candidates for county assessor and three persons seeking supervisorial seats dished up some peppy comments at a Mission Merchants' candidates luncheon Thursday in Daly City.

Forkfuls of key lime pie paused in midair as the surprised merchants' audience heard Lucille Sanders blast her two opponents for the county assessor post.

"I don't think either of those men are capable of administration," Mrs. Sanders said of her opponents, Roland E. Giannini and Tom Collins.

Mrs. Sanders charged that the chief accomplishment of the two chief appraisers in the county office has been "creating an atmosphere of confusion."

The candidate said that since she had at one time worked in the county assessor's office, she knows both Giannini and Collins well. She said that when she left the county to become an independent appraiser, "I benefited greatly from a good recommendation from Tom Collins."

Mrs. Sanders urged her predominantly male audience to set aside "any male chauvinism and consider the maxim. 'If you want something said, ask a man. If you want something done, ask a woman.'"

Critical comment also was provided by Giannini and Collins, who took verbal swipes at each other in separate brief presentations.

Giannini, who told the merchants that his mother grew up on Mission Street, said he is concerned that the Taxpayer Assisted Property Evaluation System (TAPES) that Collins advocates "is a paperwork nightmare."

"It's a sensationalized program," he said his study of the TAPES system has shown. "I'm concerned that with a $3 million budget for the county assessor's office, the residents get a cost effective program."

Collins countered that Giannini has tried to kill the concept of TAPES in the past "by using his vacation time to talk to all the traditionalists who oppose it."

Collins told the audience that he has not been to Daly City often "because I have the biggest job in the assessor's office."

The candidate further said that as chief appraiser of real property, "I have 72 people to his (Giannini's) six to supervise."

Collins said he has increased production in the assessors' office "by 50 percent, although that may not win me a hell of a lot of votes."

The merchants also heard from the two candidates for the Third Supervisorial District seat, Edward Bacciocco and Marguerite Leipzig, and from Supervisor John Ward, who is running unopposed.

Bacciocco, current chairman of the Board of Supervisors, said that when he was elected four years ago, "People from Daly City said, 'That's the last you'll see of Bacciocco.'"

"But I've never left Daly City," he said. "Whenever you have asked me, I've been here."

Bacciocco said that in addition to long-standing efforts to protect San Bruno Mountain from development, he recently has been concerned about Bay Area Rapid Transit District's plans to build a one-mile "tail track" extending from the Daly City BART station.

"They (BART) did not have the courtesy or decency to talk to anyone in San Mateo County before they started dickering with Southern Pacific for rights of way," Bacciocco said of the proposed project.

Bacciocco said he will work to "oppose it 100 percent."

Mrs. Leipzig said her six years on the City Council in Redwood City have prepared her for the supervisor's post.

"I am a businesswoman," she said. "I share your concerns about Mission Street. The parking must be atrocious."

Mrs. Leipzig also promised that if elected, "I will be visible to the North County."

"There is a great responsibility to lower taxes and see that the county runs better, faster and cheaper," she concluded.

Ward, who joked that his opponent "didn't show up to file in March," said that although he was running unopposed, "I would appreciate your vote of confidence."

Ward also urged that voters consider the three county propositions, A, B, and C.

He said he first favored district election of supervisors, Proposition A, but has changed his mind.

Ward said he now believes that voters have greater influence with board members if supervisors are elected countywide.

Noise Muffle Costs Rise to $400,000

The cost of noise abatement at Colma Intermediate and Elementary schools has jumped to more than $400,000, the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees has learned.

John Coyle, an architect with Reid and Taric Associates in San Francisco, met with the board Wednesday to outline plans in the proposed ventilation system for the school campuses.

He said ventilation costs will be about $40,000 more than was expected, but that a closed ventilation system is better than having the noise problems associated with open windows.

"We have to do as much as we can to alleviate noise," Trustee Beverly Forrester said. "If we have to open the acoustical windows, that defeats the purpose."

Assistant Superintendent Dr. John Trompeter said the district has enough construction funds to cover the cost and has been promised $90,000 from San Mateo County.

The district is suing Daly City for $350,000 for indemnity in the noise problems it claims have resulted since the widening of East Market Street in 1972.

The county, which worked on the project in conjunction with the city, as well as on other construction near the school, has offered $90,000 to defray noise abatement costs, but the city has accepted no responsibility in the case.

City Attorney Albert Polonsky of Daly City recently filed a cross-complaint in San Mateo County Superior Court asking that the county be made part of the suit. The county has not replied to the cross-complaint, he said.

The case is expected to go to court in several months. The board did not discuss the case at Wednesday's meeting.

JUHSD Aide Tonini Leaves The 'Hot-spot'

Jefferson Union High School District's retiring deputy superintendent, Dr. Harold C. Tonini, left one of the toughest jobs in San Mateo County Friday.

Tonini, who has been deputy superintendent for nine years and chief negotiator for the district for at least eight of them, said he's "delighted" to be leaving that hot spot.

"There's got to be something a little more pleasant to do," Tonini said of the seemingly endless, heated rounds of union negotiations.

However, Tonini said that for the most part he has enjoyed his 18 years of work with the Daly City-Pacifica-Brisbane-Western San Bruno school district, which he called "the best school district I've ever worked with."

"I'VE BEEN surrounded by a lot of great people," he said, mentioning Superintendent Dr. Floyd Gonella and Assistant Superintendent Dr. Robert Watt. Watt also will be leaving in a few weeks to take a superintendent's post in Rio Vista. (Tonini and Dr. Robert S. Watt were honored by friends and colleagues July 25, with Louis (Le) Pacini, a Jefferson High School District teacher, the master of ceremonies and Pacific Mayor Nick Gust, American Federation of Teachers officer Marcel Dunne Ballard and Superintendent Floyd Gonella among the speakers.)

Tonini, 63, has been in public education 33 years. Before he came to the JUHSD 18 years ago, he worked with the Long Beach Unified School District and the Paramount Unified School District in Southern California.

He started as a "core course" teacher, teaching history, English, physical education, "wherever we were needed."

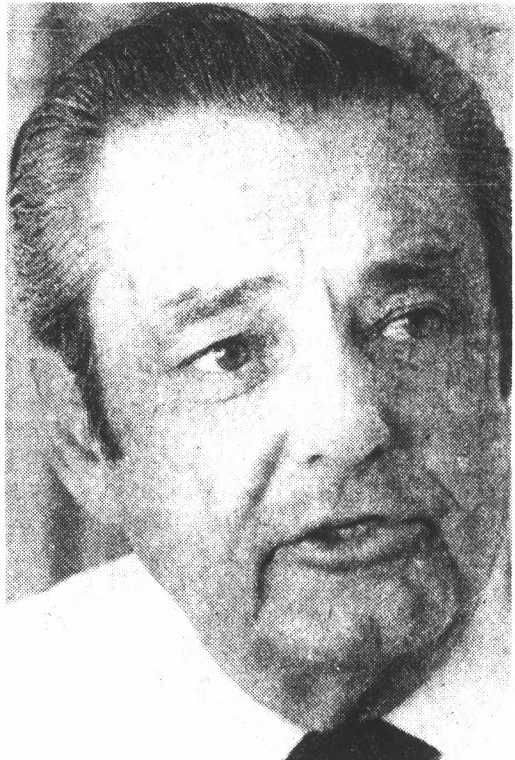

Tonini, who holds a doctorate degree in administration from the University of Southern California, was hired by the JUHSD to open Pacifica's Oceana High School in the 1960s.

However, construction at Oceana was not completed on time and Tonini found himself presiding over double sessions at Jefferson High School for several months.

Eventually, Terra Nova High School was completed first and Tonini was that Pacifica school's principal until 1967.

Tonini later became JUHSD assistant superintendent for instruction before moving up to the deputy superintendent's post two years later.

Tonini, as deputy superintendent, began his specialized work with the district's personnel, which has included negotiations with the American Federation of Teachers, California School Employees Association and American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

At peak enrollment in the district, he dealt with 425 employees. Next fall, declining enrollment will bring that number of 338.

TONINI HAS spent the bulk of his negotiations time with Local 1481 of the AFT. Negotiations with teachers are more complex because of "broader issues" involved, he said.

"Teachers have become more active. I hate to use the word militant," he said. "But in the past, the teachers never questioned what the boards and management did. Now, rightfully so, they do question."

Tonini, who is acknowledged as a formidable presence across the negotiating table, said, "I have a job to do. I don't negotiate from what I think, but from what the Board of Trustees directs. My job is to hammer out

Julius Takes Sides Early

The pint-sized man often pounds on a table top to make a point. His fierce, dark eyes and tiny moustache bristle with indignation.

A familiar, reedy voice intersperses sing-song comments with a ready cackle. The cackle is an open challenge to anyone who dares to cross him.

There is only one Julius F. Castelan in Daly City. For that, his frequent critics are fervently grateful.

But if the 79-year-old man has his detractors, he also has a grateful following of senior citizens and Spanish-speaking people who regard him as a fearless advocate.

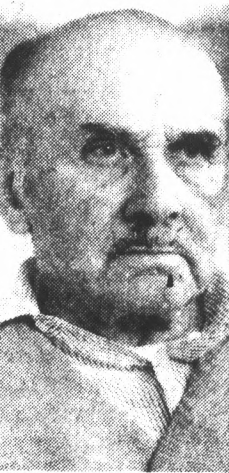

CASTELAN MAKES it a habit of speaking for those who often do not speak for themselves, the elderly, poor and Spanish-speaking residents of Daly City.

It's a habit he picked up and developed in more than 40 years of political activism in Daly City. Castelan claims the longest record of semi-regular attendance at Daly City City Council meetings.

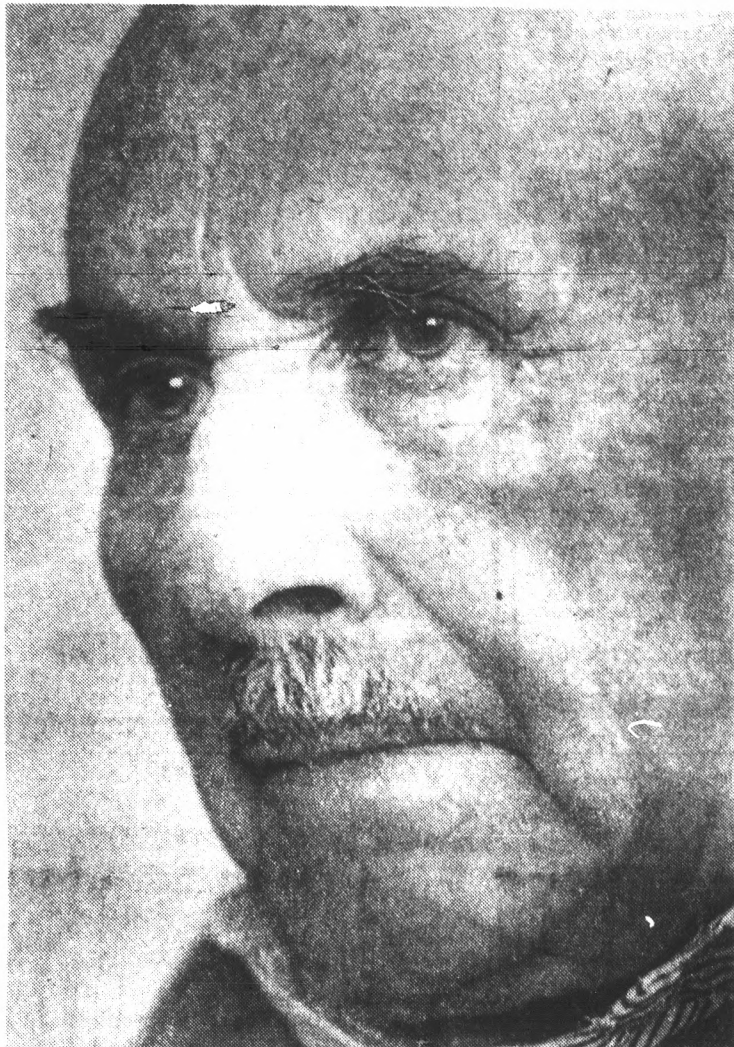

When Castelan beats a spy path to the council chambers' podium, the City Council generally guesses he has something fiery to say concerning senior citizens of Spanish-speaking residents. Sometimes Castelan merely wants to give some advice regarding federal grants or crime problems.

"I take a side immediately," Castelan said of most issues.

That aspect of Castelan's personality has gotten the quick-tempered resident in plenty of hot water.

A current controversy raging in the Jefferson Elementary School District concerns Castelan's role in a $1.6 million Emergency School Aid Act application made to the federal government.

Castelan, as head of the Bay Area Regional Program of the Padres Unidos for Quality Education, joined with another leader of the Spanish-speaking community to write a letter to a chief of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

THE LETTER charged that the JESD forced the resignation of Dr. Elvinia De Garmo as principal of George Washington School and is replacing her with "an Anglo male, with less experience and educational qualifications."

Dr. De Garmo is one of several principals being reassigned to a classroom through closure of three schools.

Castelan told the district that his nephew, whom he describes as "an aide to the President," knew about the letter and that it helped to defeat the district application.

District Superintendent Peter Hansen, who has charged that Castelan attempted to "blackmail" the district into keeping Dr. De Garmo as a principal, has turned the matter over to the county district attorney's office for investigation.

He said Castelan could be charged with extortion in the incident.

Castelan, who said the district is upset at his comments that the JESD "has too many $30,000-a-year paper pushers," is not worried about possible charges.

"You've got to hit them where it hurts," he cackled.

CASTELAN, the director of Bay Area Regional Planning Inc., a non-profit agency, considers himself knowledgeable about federal grants.

He is proud for the past year he has headed a $153,000 Comprehensive Employment and Training Act program that has been responsible for painting — for free — the houses of 110 Daly City low-income residents. The program, conducted by San Mateo County, is expected to include Pacifica soon, he said.

Castelan, at a salary of $8 per hour for five hours daily, has directed the CETA painter-trainees and has sought persons eligible for house painting.

The elderly man, a registered civil engineer, served for more than a year in 1936 as Daly City's city engineer. Castelan, who said he found he did not like municipal politics, later opened his own engineering office and remained in Daly City.

Born in Guaymas, Mexico, Castelan said he came to the United States in 1900 as a 2-year-old in a covered wagon. He said his parents, a French father and a Mexican-Indian mother, did not agree with "the repressive Mexican government."

JESD School Use Bid Hearing

The Jefferson Elementary School District's Board of Trustees Wednesday held a formal bid opening on proposals to lease Crocker and Lincoln schools, being closed in June due to declining enrollment.

The bid opening at 7:30 p.m. netted only one proposal, however. The San Francisco Christian School formally offered 14 cents per square foot for a four-classroom block at Lincoln.

Subsequent to the formal bid opening, however, the board received two other proposals — from Guadalupe Health Center and Montessori School.

James Valentine, who offered a tentative oral proposal, said Guadalupe wants to buy Crocker

School, probably for a satellite to its main location. He said the center would rather purchase than lease, since it would have to make $250,000 in code improvements to the site.

The Montessori School bid, which came an hour past the deadline, was not opened.

The board set a hearing May 31 at 7:30 p.m. to further consider the bid matter.

In other business, the board:
• Took a quick look at a

1978-79 tentative budget prepared by the staff, which shows $11,838,495 in total expenditures.

• Discussed the possibility of cutting down multiple registrations at conferences, sending one representative that would give workshops to other district employees upon return from the conference.

• Accepted with thanks three dolls from the Jefferson Council of PTAs which will be used for teaching sex education to blind students.

Since he settled in Daly City, Castelan has lived at 862 Bellevue with his wife of 56 years, Carmen.
"That's a lot of years with a good woman," Castelan cackled.
He credits himself with being the prime mover in the Daly City Senior Citizens Nutrition Project, a lunchtime program, started four years ago, that has provided 100,000 meals, he said.
The program, operated in conjunction with the county, was directed by Castelan at the Lincoln Park Clubhouse until last spring.
At that time, a cook at the project claimed that Castelan in a fit of anger chased her around the kitchen, brandishing a knife.
Castelan, who said the incident was misunderstood by all involved, resigned as director after claiming that the county head of the program resented his criticism of the way money was being spent.
He still serves as vice-president of the Senior Council of the program.
Castelan, who said he's a man who enjoys life, is fond of chess and cards. He credits his advanced age — he'll be

80 August 19 — with "never visiting a doctor for 50 years"
HOWEVER, Castelan said he's always available to take his Spanish-speaking or senior citizen friends to the doctor. He said he also is called on to bail people out of jail, talk to teachers about students having difficulties and help repair homes.
"My wife calls me the goody daddy, but I know I serve a purpose," he said. "I keep active and I help people. You've got to help the old people and the Spanish-speaking people. Who else will?"

JCTA Dislikes '13' Plan

The building representatives of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association have urged the Jefferson Elementary School District board and administration, in a letter to Superintendent Pete Hansen, to reconsider the district's "contingency plan" for the Daly City Elementary and Jr. High Schools if Proposition 13 passes on June 6. "If the school district insists on keeping a teaching staff of 100 teachers less than this year, it could mean approximately 50 to 60 students in each classroom," according to Katie Jahns, chairwoman of the JCTA Bargaining Team. Early this month, the school district considered a "contingency plan" for implementation if Proposition 13 passes. The plan calls for:

- No regular bus transportation
- A teaching day of 240 minutes, or "minimum day teaching"
- No resource teachers
- No librarians
- No reading specialists
- No speech teachers
- No art teachers
- No Jr. High electives

"Most school districts," added JCTA President Garry Bieringer, have taken the position that if Proposition 13 passes, schools will stay open until they run out of money, and then they will either close, or will wait for the state to provide funds to keep the schools in operation. "The plan to keep schools running at full steam makes more sense," continued Bieringer.

"Our district's present plan, which would dramatically increase the class sizes, would force the schools in Daly City to function as a baby sitting agency, instead of a center for learning," he said.

CALIFORNIA HOUSING COUNCIL, INC.

SAN MATEO, CALIFORNIA 94401

The California Housing Council, Inc., is a non-profit organization which is dedicated to the improvement of housing conditions for all Californians.

We are not just a "renters' union." We are a "renters' voice." We are the only organization in California that represents the interests of renters in the state.

The California Housing Council, Inc., has been very successful in its efforts to improve the lives of renters in California. We have fought for rent control, for the right to buy, for the right to fair housing, and for the right to a safe and sound living environment.

It would be a shame if we were not successful in our efforts to improve the lives of renters in California. We have fought for rent control, for the right to buy, for the right to fair housing, and for the right to a safe and sound living environment.

While we may not be able to eliminate all of the problems of renters in California, we can make a significant difference in the lives of renters in California. We have fought for rent control, for the right to buy, for the right to fair housing, and for the right to a safe and sound living environment.

By STEVE KAUFMAN

Westmoor High School once again has passed another milestone as its year's progress. Some of the major year-end events now are history and students are beginning to prepare for final exams.

The annual Senior Ball-Junior Prom was superb. Held in the Grand Ballroom at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in San Francisco, 450 students danced to the music of "Savory." Many students remarked that everyone looked so different dressed up in tuxedos and fancy dresses!

FROM PICTURES and orders were taken at the dance. It seemed as though everyone had a great time. Many thanks to all of the committees for their hard work to make this annual event a success.

Westmoor had its annual Awards Assembly in the large gym May 25. A large crowd of both parents and students attended the ceremony to see these pupils presented with various awards.

Altobelli Glues Giants Together

Let's hear it for Joe Altobelli. He still makes, I think, some mistakes in strategy, and I'm not always sure about his lineups, but then has any sportswriter ever thought a manager was perfect?

What Altobelli has done in a positive way for the Giants is much more important than mechanical things such as on-field strategy and making out lineup cards. He's apparently made a team out of the same basic components that last year made up what was often a dissident group. He got rid of the disturbers and somehow made what was left work as a team, which in turn gave the youngsters on the roster confidence in themselves and thus in their ability to win. And once kids starting winning, it's hard for them to remember how to lose.

OF COURSE, Spec Richardson's trade for Vida Blue was a big help, as was co-owner Bud Herseth's brainstorm about bringing Maury Wills in to help with the "inside" baseball. But even that represented teamwork, and if that attitude doesn't emanate from the manager it doesn't emanate. And besides, the manager is always responsible for the end results.

Altobelli said all last year, when he was platooning and putting up with certain clubhouse nonsense, that he needed a year to acquaint himself with the team, with individual abilities and personalities. Well, he's done it. He's made the personalities work in a positive way, and he's learned who can play everyday and who can play some days, and who can't play at all, and he's used that information to win perhaps more than what the Giants' raw talent indicates they should.

IN THE meanwhile, don't be too hard on Joe when the Giants begin losing more than occasionally. They're still not a solid team. They have glaring weaknesses on the bench, and their vaunted relief pitching has to pick up. But they still have Blue and John Montefusco and Jim Barr (for now) and Bob Knepper and Ed Halicki and Joe Altobelli, and that is a lot, and can carry the Giants a long way.

The reason, of course, for the above remark of Jim Barr "for now," is the constant flow of rumors about Barr's eminent departure in a trade, probably (and it should be) for a hitter.

I've been trying to figure out exactly what's available and appropriate for Barr, and after a process of elimination, I've come to the conclusion that the Phillies' outfielder-first baseman, pinch-hitter, platoon Jay Johnstone is the most logical player for Barr.

HOW DID I figure that? Start with the premise that the Giants wouldn't deal with a team in their own division, for obvious reasons, and that even if they did, the only teams in the Western Division with excess power are the Dodgers and the Reds, neither of whom would deal with the Giants, now that they are apparently contenders.

The only team in the other division with power on the bench and for whom a solid starting pitcher could be enough of an edge to win a pennant, is the Phillies. The Phillies also have Davey Johnson, a right-handed power hitter, on the bench, but in spring training it was Johnstone, the southpaw stickler, whom they were rumored to have been offering around, and besides, Johnson is an infielder and the Giants have enough of those. They need outfield help.

JOHNSTONE would be an asset to the Giants because he is a pure hitter, the kind of guy who can come off the bench hitting. He doesn't necessarily have to play regularly to hit. He's played first base and all three outfield positions, and he isn't a bad defensive player. Should injuries occur, he has the experience to play regularly because he has been a regular with the Phils.

I LOVE old players' minor league stories, and the best one I've heard in years comes from Rich Burt, the principal of Jefferson High School, who put several years in with the Detroit chain in the early and middle 50's.

One spring Burt was sent a contract which he considered an insult to his intelligence and financial shrewdness, and sent it back with the notation scrawled roughly across its face, "What, do you think I am a boob?"

A few weeks later he got back an amended contract for a raise of $25 a month — and signed it.

TOP DESIGNATED hitting team in the American League last year was Boston, whose combined DH's hit .311 with 28 doubles, 14 triples (leading the league), 36 homeruns (league leading figure), drove in 106 runs and scored 104. And you think the DH doesn't help?

Kansas City, hitting .309, actually had more hits than the Red Sox, 204-200, and hit an astounding 51 doubles, to go along with eight triples and 21 homers. They drove in 96, scored 116, the latter figure leading the AL DH's.

The only other team to score 100 runs was Chicago, which also had the most RBI, with 112. Other team DH's to drive in more than 100 were Detroit (103) and Cleveland (101).

EVERY TEAM hit homeruns in the double figures, with seven teams going 20 or more, and Chicago hitting 34.

Worst DH team was Milwaukee, with a .231 BA, the fewest HR's (10), fewest runs scored (64) and fewest RBI (54).

And if you think DH's are just big, slow, old guys who can only swing the bat, consider that three of the teams had DH stolen bases in double figures, led by California, with 20. Seattle DH's stole 17 and Oakland 10.

By the way, if you haven't figured it out yet, Boston DH's had a slugging average of .565, while K.C.'s was .505.

SPEAKING of sluggers, with all the publicity and honors Cincy's George Foster got last year, he had only six more total bases than Jim Rice of Boston — 388 to 382.

And for more esoterica, win a bar bet this weekend with the fact that the major league's leading pick-off pitchers were rookie southpaw Jerry Garvin of Toronto and veteran lefty Steve Carlton of Philadelphia, each with 22 men caught off base.

Last week in this space the question was asked who is the oldest shortstop in the big leagues? The answer is Campy Campaneris, late of Oakland and now with Texas. Campy is 35.

The Indian

By LUANA JEFFRIES
Tryouts for next year's Jefferson High School pep staff were May 16. Competition was tough because all who tried out were so talented. Practices had started in April, when everyone had the chance to become acquainted with each other.

The new spirit staff chosen:

Varsity cheerleaders — Sharon Gowen, Rebecca Calder, Karen Clark, Tami Empleo, Daniella Franchi, Shari Dilly.

Varsity pom-pom girls — Lydia Lee, Lori McGrath, Karen Chow, Letty Heuras, Linda Lee.

Junior varsity cheerleaders — Karen Woods, Tammy Norman, Della Brock, Marilyn Loveless, Lucy Clem, Danyal Jackson, Paula Jolivet, Danielle Pokorny.

Congratulations pep staff of 1978-1979! A hand-down rally will be June 2 to introduce the new cheerleaders and pom-pom girls.

Congratulations to the new student body officers. They are: President, Ralph Gowen; vice president, Linda Lee; secretary, Lily Dumlaio; treasurer, Angelita Pronio; club commissioner, Marilou Sana; rally commissioner, Terri Garon; and parliamentarian, Laurie Tiedge.

"Tambourines to Glory," a musical by Langston Hughes, will be performed by Jeff students for this year's school play. The play is a dramatization of a very old problem — good vs. evil. Linda Clemmons, drama teacher and director of the play, has not decided on the date, but it will be soon.

THE FILIPINO CLUB and many math classes went to Great America May 20. The students stayed from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and had a nice time.

Since the Filipino Club's trip to Great America was so successful, the freshmen and junior classes are planning a trip there for June 10.

Jefferson's annual Senior Tea will be Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the cafeteria for senior girls and their mothers. This year's theme is "An Afternoon in Paris." The mothers and daughters will be served tea and cake while they are entertained with a fashion show organized by Linda McLean, a Jefferson teacher, and put on by the students.

JEFFERSON'S advanced French class, with advisor Mr. Beringer, enjoyed a dinner May 18 at the Camembert. The unique restaurant in San Salito serves French dishes in a pleasant atmosphere.

The French dinner was not only exciting, but it also was an experience in French culture which was rewarding to many of the students.

The yearbook class finally had its long puffoff disco dance May 19. The dance featured music and light system by DJ Nick Harper from KSOL.

Jefferson High golfers had the opportunity to play at some of the finest country clubs in the Bay Area, playing their league matches at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club and California Country Club. A practice match was played in San Raphael at the Marin Country Club. The finals were played at the Half Moon Bay Golf links, a tough championship course.

Steamed Clams Now Little Joe Special

LITTLE JOE'S FISH FACTORY is getting busier by the week. Almost every repeat customer brings a friend, or two, to try the food. The new special, which is billed as a "meal for one or appetizers for many," is two pounds of steamed clams for $4.50. You'll be impressed with the comfortable atmosphere, too. Canneloni is the dinner special this month at YOLANDA'S, South San Francisco. Only $3.95, the special is served from 5 to 9 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and includes soup, salad or pasta, two vegetables, bread and butter, and a glass of wine. On weekends, family-style dinners include Maine Lobster, Prime Rib and Italian gourmet dishes. Grilled Rock Cod, topped with lemon butter sauce, served with potatoes and vegetable, often appears on the menu at CAPTAIN CHARLES, Rockaway Beach, as a special. Served only when fresh caught. First-time patrons at PHIL LEHR'S Pay-By-Ounce STEAKERY, on the lower level of the San Francisco Hilton Tower, do a fast doubletake when they see the elegantly dressed patrons wearing bright red bibs. It's to protect their fine clothes from possible splatters from Phil's famous sizzling steaks.

Top Brass Attend North Beach Party

Air Force Major General Pablo Apella, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was among Argentina's top brass attending a dinner party at the NEW SAN REMO in San Francisco's North Beach, last week. Host FRANK ROMAGUERA was complimented on the superb food and flawless service. A testimonial dinner honoring 49er defense end Tommy Hart was held recently at ex-49er JIM SNIADOCKI'S SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S restaurant in Redwood City. John DeSantis was in charge of party arrangements. The English Speaking Union sponsored an after-theater party at ROSEBUD'S ENGLISH PUB, on San Francisco's Geary Street Theater Row, for the "H.M.S. Pinafore" cast. The distinguished D'Oyly Carte Opera Company is presenting a series of three productions at the Curran Theater. Entrees at ROMANO'S Italian and Seafood restaurant, Rockaway Beach, may be ordered a la carte or full course. Dinners include soup, green salad, choice of French fries, spaghetti or ravioli, French bread and butter, ice cream or sherbet. Incidentally, the "Fisherman-style" Crab Cioppino, one of ENRICO ROMANO'S specials, is a culinary masterpiece. For absolute enjoyment, don't be in a hurry. The aroma of true French cuisine is tantalizing at Louis Fruttschi's L'Auberge French restaurant. The gourmet will hasten to sample starred items on the new special luncheon menu featured Mondays through Fridays.

Learn Disco Dance Steps at Lehr's

Starting Saturday, June 10, MURRAY LEHR will feature disco dancing in LEHR'S CABARET in San Francisco nightly from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. If you don't know all of the latest disco dance steps, you can learn them in a hurry at Lehr's free disco dance lessons Monday through Friday from 5 to 7 p.m. The popular cabaret shows will continue nightly at 9 p.m. Devilish Crab, Prawns Newbury, Shrimp Creole with Rice and Crab Legs and Prawns with Rice are just a few of the casserole dishes served at VINCE'S Italian and Seafood restaurant. All are served with vegetables or French fries. For fresh seafood to take home, visit the market next door. The BAYHILL LOUNGE, named after the Bayhill Shopping Center in which it is located, is a relaxing San Bruno rendezvous for afternoon shoppers, and a lively p.m. spot for those who like to dance. The TRI SOUNDS entertain nightly, Tuesdays through Saturdays, from 9 p.m. Appetizers are numerous at LA PINATA, a downtown Burlingame restaurant featuring Mexican food. Guacamole, Nachos, Quesadillas, and Taquitos are all tasty meal starters. Orders for Mexican dishes to take out are promptly filled. Open from 11:30 a.m. Monday through Saturday; from 4 p.m. on Sunday. The new COUNTRY CREAMERY, located in downtown San Mateo at the corner of Third and Ellsworth, invites you to come in and get acquainted. Besides a variety of ice cream specialties in many different flavors, yogurt sundaes, and hand-packed ice cream, you'll find picnic sandwiches, soup-of-the-day, and many other enticements. Incidentally, you can get 50 cents off on the Strawberry Social Sundae (creamy ice cream topped with whole strawberries in their own special sauce) now through June 5. Open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays; noon to 8 p.m. on Sundays.

Peninsula, Mary's Help Clash on Heart Surgery

By JOHN HORGAN
Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City and Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame are locked in a bitter legal fight over the question of providing cardiovascular surgery in the North County.

Mary's Help, which began open heart surgery in January, contends that Peninsula should not be allowed to have surgeons from Moffitt Hospital in San Francisco begin a similar and competitive program at the Burlingame facility.

Attorneys for Peninsula and Moffitt, part of the University of California in San Francisco, disagree.

On May 22, Mary's Help attorneys sought a preliminary injunction against Peninsula and Moffitt in San Francisco Superior Court. Judge Ira Brown said he needed more time to study the case before ruling.

Here are some of the key issues separating the two sides:

• Mary's Help says the agreement between Peninsula and Moffitt is illegal because the regents of the University of California have not approved it.

According to John Lundberg, attorney for Moffitt, "The regents ... have delegated their authority to enter into affiliation agreements and thus the agreement ... is not void."

• Mary's Help says the agreement between the two hospitals is void because it has not been approved by the board of directors of Peninsula.

According to statements by Peninsula Administrator Charles Mason and James Delehanty of Peninsula's board of directors, Mason has the authority to enter into such agreements.

• Mary's Help says the agreement is illegal because it represents the establishment of a new service at Peninsula and, as such, requires a certificate of need, along with other permission, from the state's Department of Health.

The other hospitals deny that. Says Lundberg, "The situation at Peninsula is no different in substance from granting staff privileges to specialized practitioners pursuant to a newly granted authorization to perform that service."

• Mary's Help says the agreement represents the illegal corporate practice of medicine. Says the hospital's attorney, Douglas Schwab, "This will undoubtedly give (those UC) surgeons a most substantial competitive advantage over competing surgeons in this field."

Laurence Kessenick, attorney for Peninsula, says, "... a review of the agreement clearly indicates that the concern of Peninsula is not to control the practice of medicine by the cardiovascular surgeons at the University of California; quite to the contrary, it is to guarantee to the Peninsula community that the finest quality cardiovascular surgery service will be available at that institution."

At the core of all this is money. Mary's Help believes it has begun an open heart surgery unit which can fill the needs of the North County.

Spokesmen for Mary's Help contend that Peninsula's entry into the field will drastically erode the Daly City hospital's program.

Further, Mary's Help is not pleased that both competing hospitals are public entities while Mary's Help is a private hospital.

Mary's Help is worried that Peninsula's cardiovascular unit, which opened this spring, is yet another example of expensive duplication in the health care area.

Attorneys on the other side offer that Mary's Help is really mainly concerned about its own budget. Says Lundberg, "... it would appear that the underlying claim (of Mary's Help) ... is more in the nature of alleged interference with potential business advantage."

The surgeons from the University of California are not the first ones Peninsula attempted to affiliate with for cardiac surgery. Physicians from Stanford University had originally been sought.

The agreement with UC was signed Feb. 7.

So far, Peninsula has been the location for a handful of cardiac surgeries. Mary's Help, says its officials, has had more than two dozen.

The Neptune Society is the intelligent alternative to the more costly, involved mortuary-funeral-cemetery system. After 100 years, it is the answer to America's high cost of dying. The Neptune Society provides a simple, dignified cremation service with scattering on land or sea. There is no need for embalming, cosmetology, casket or graves. Most funerals with casket, grave and other related items will cost $2000 to $5000. The simple Neptune way is approx. $320 (less for members) plus modest area transportation fees. The U.S. Govt. pays $255 cash towards death expenses of persons qualified under social security, working or retired. The thinking person will register today.

LBYA, PAL Lead Loops

The Lions Better Youth Associations lead in the 8th Grade Daly City Recreation Division Boys Baseball League. The L.B.Y.A. Superstars and Cardinals hold a slim advantage over the St. Andrew's A's after seven weeks of league play. The L.B.Y.A. Cardinals downed L.B.Y.A. 21-5 behind the two homers of Tim Ohman and five shut-out innings of pitching by K. Abdulla.

The L.B.Y.A. Superstars defeated the P.A.L. Roadrunners as Todd Tonnachy went 5-for-5 with two homers. Joe Brieder went 4-for-5 with 5 RBI's and one homer as the St. Andrew's A's defeated L.B.Y.A. 16-4. Bob Lara pitched five innings of hitless ball and went 2-for-3 as the Cardinals downed the Roadrunners 12-6. The "Roadrunners" came back to defeat L.B.Y.A. 9-4 with a good team effort. The Scots A's, with Steve Cotton collecting five hits and Joe Breider four hits, downed the St. Andrew's II team 26-9. Paul Savin had a three-run homer as the Scots A team shut-out Our Lady of Mercy 21-0. The Cardinals, behind four hitless innings by Bob Lara, downed St. Andrew's II, 17-0.

The P.A.L. Hustlers have ended regulation 7th grade league play with an unblemished 8-0 record. David Villar and Edmond Katz have combined to pitch some excellent games for the Hustlers. The Hustlers' hitting was led by Ray Villar, Paul Bologna and Ed Plege.

Ed Tafoya threw a no-hitter for four innings as O.L.M. defeated the P.A.L. Bruins 28-6. St. Andrew's defeated the S.A.L. Dumpers 22-13 behind the pitching of Bobby Rodriguez. Tafoya had his second four inning no-hitter as the O.L.M. I team downed the O.L.M. II team 11-2.

The P.A.L. Bruins defeated the L.B.Y.A. Wildcats 21-7. The league-leading S.A.L. Roadrunners came from a 15-1 defeat to beat St. Thomas More 26-16 in 6th grade play. Great defense by both teams marked the 5-4 win of St. Andrew's over L.B.Y.A. Our Lady of Mercy edged St. Andrew 7-6 in a close game. Alfonso Bocanegra went 2-for-2 as L.B.Y.A. narrowly defeated St. Thomas More 10-8. St. Thomas More came back to down the Scots 17-16.

In the 8th Grade Eastern League there isn't any clear favorite to win the title. Five of the six teams are still in contention for the championship. The Shamrocks currently hold a slim one-half game advantage over the rest of the league. Nino Guerro and Glenn Ibarreto lead the Shamrocks hitting attack and Alan Handlin, Carlos Goni and Rich Worley head up an excellent pitching staff. L.B.Y.A. is led by the hitting of Anthony Mach and Greg Magalogo.

O.L.M. has won only one game so far but that was over the league-leading Shamrocks, 11-10. The St. Andrews' lineup features the hitting of Danny Scerni, Timmy Moreland, Eric Crenshaw and Greg Drexler.

Daly City Home Claimed by Blaze

One of the largest house fires to occur in some time in Daly City virtually destroyed a two-story home at 75 Westline Drive early this morning, with firemen estimating damage of $75,000 to $85,000.

Firemen were called at 12:41 a.m., but Battalion Chief Michael Orloff said the fire already had a good start before anyone in the quiet neighborhood noticed it and the structure was fully engulfed when firemen arrived.

No one was home at the time, Orloff said, but owner Pauline Twyman arrived while firemen were mopping up, an operation that took till after 4 a.m. Two dogs perished in the fire, he added.

Fireman Larry Benson suffered the only injury, falling through the burned-out second floor into the basement, but was reported all right with only a head bump.

The blaze is thought to have started in the basement and spread to the upper floors, Orloff said, but the cause hasn't been determined yet because of the large amount of debris in the basement.

An adjacent home at 96 Rockford Drive suffered slight damage from the flames, he said.

Orloff noted that the fire got a good start probably because this is a quiet neighborhood, with residents in bed for the night "and it was a while before anyone peeked out the window." During the day it would have been seen and reported much sooner and the loss cut considerably, he said.

Brawl At Party

Law enforcement agencies from Daly City to Redwood City were called to South San Francisco late Saturday night to help break up a fight at the Santo Christo Hall on Old Mission Road at Oak Avenue.

South San Francisco police said a fight broke out at a dance in the hall just before midnight Saturday. Two officers on duty at the hall could not handle the situation, police said, and called other law enforcement agencies for assistance.

At one point, officers called an unlawful assembly and ordered the crowd of 250-300 to disperse. Those failing to leave the area were subject to arrest, and nine were arrested on a variety of charges. Their names were not available.

Two officers were treated at Kaiser Hospital for minor injuries. Another officer received minor injuries, but did not go to the hospital.

Most of those arrested were charged with being drunk in public and with unlawful assembly. One man arrested was charged with assault on a police officer.
